obviously the higher your engagement rate the more successful brands will consider you and the higher they will be willing to pay it is difficult to find overall engagement rates for tiktok all the published ones appear to wrongly equate engagement with the percentage of people opening the app once a day however like most social media networks you can calculate your individual tiktok engagement with the following formula number of hearts number of comments number of followers x100 you can calculate this either for a single post or overall we suggest that you add together the figures for your last 20 posts when you make this calculation overall don't forget to interact with your viewers make sure that you reply to comments that people leave on your videos it may seem like hard work to you but it makes your followers believe you care and take notice of them promote your videos on your other social channels and your blog too if you have one the more people who know about your content the more will watch and like it the more you promote your content the more additional followers you are likely to gain and the closer you will be to being considered an influencer although you can't share in tiktok advertising revenue successful tiktok performers can still make money on the platform the most obvious way is by influencer marketing if you can build a sufficient following of dedicated viewers you can market yourself to brands to sell products to your audience's demographic once you have keen followers you can create and sell merchandise to them particularly if you make your name in an unusual niche rather than just lip syncing you can also launch your career through tiktok examples of the emoticons which can be bought by tiktok livestream viewers are the panda for 5 coins italian hand 5 love bang 25 sun cream 50 rainbow puke 100 concert 500 i m very rich 1 000 and drama queen 5 000
